

James Ross Bailey (Eastern Tennessee State University - Quillen College of Medicine)

Education/History

Title: “Evaluating the Effectiveness of Thiel-Embalmed Cadavers for Identifying a Positive Lachman Test”

Poster or Platform Winner:

Poster

Title of winning presentation:

“Evaluating the Effectiveness of Thiel-Embalmed Cadavers for Identifying a Positive Lachman Test.”

Current position:

4th year medical student, ETSU Quillen College of Medicine

Advisor:

Paul Gorman, MD (orthopaedic surgeon)

Undergraduate/Graduate degree (previous)

B.S. Health and Human Sciences, University of Memphis

Hometown:

Memphis, TN

Hobbies and Special Interests:

Hobbies: intramural sports, fly-fishing, wood working, landscaping

Interests include spending time with my wife, 4-month-old son, and two dogs (Drake and Josh)

What would you like to see yourself doing 10 years from now?

In 10 years I hope to be an Orthopedic Surgeon serving the needs of patients both at home and abroad via international missions. I also have a passion for teaching and have been fortunate to have very influential mentors throughout my medical school career. That said, I hope to also be serving as a mentor for medical students interested in the field of Orthopedics.